

Dream Away

There are so many gathering; and they got so much to say
But they will all be empty-handed, I could just sail away
There are still songs unheard of; there is so much I like to say
There is nothing you can't reach it, you will learn along the way

Dream away for a while
Your spirit will not slip away
Dream and sway for a while
Your future will be there to stay

There are so many going backwards; they got nothing left to lose
And they are all blaming Tarots, but you get what you choose
There is still land un-captured; there is so much I like to say
There are doors behind every corner, just come along and choose

Dream away for a while
Your spirit will not slip away
Dream away for a while
Your spirit will be there to stay

Dream away for a while
Your spirit will not slip away
Dream and sway for a while
